The Maestro Cares Foundation was founded in January 2012 to improve the quality of life of the neediest children in Latin America. It is the vision of its founders, global music icon Marc Anthony and entrepreneur Henry Cárdenas, to provide basic needs such as housing, nutrition, clean water, educational facilities, and healthcare while also developing academic, recreational, and agricultural programs so that these children can grow to become self-sufficient individuals.

Maestro Cares Foundation inaugurated its first project in April 2014 - an orphanage that is home to over 50 boys in La Romana, Dominican Republic. The Foundation recently broke ground on its second project, an orphanage and school in Barranquilla, Colombia which, when completed in April 2015, will be home to over 200 children. Projects are currently in the planning phase in Mexico, Perú and Puerto Rico.
